President's Message...

I am finding hard to get any modeling done. It just seems like things just keep piling up. I have been trying to keep at least a steady pace going, but I have not been very successful. Is anyone else feeling this way? I am hoping that explains the lack of cars at the meeting. There really has not been much this year in the way of turn out.

This leads into the first of two other things I would like to make everyone aware of. One of which is very important. It has to do with the newsletter you are reading. Our editor, Mike Newport, after the addition of one child and the discovery of another on the way, recently has his time filling up with responsibilities at home and work. As such he finds himself in desperate need of assistance. Note that I said assistance and not replacement. He has agreed to work with someone, so whoever can help would not bear the responsibility all by themselves. I think we were all aware of how important this is as there was no newsletter last month. It is something we all notice and use, but hopefully do not take for granted.

Lastly, this is more to check on the security of our meetings. At the March meeting, the keeper of the ballot box (Mike Newport), brought a film canister filled with quarters (about $5.00) for change for the monthly contest. Somewhere during the meeting, the quarters disappeared. I am not trying to accuse anyone. My concern is that if someone, like a restaurant patron, can walk away with $5.00 in quarters, what is stopping someone from walking away with one of our cars worth a lot more money. I sincerely hope this was a mistake, but I have just been hearing that the theft of model cars from contest tables is quickly becoming more and more common. We might look at placement of the display table, but I also think we need to be aware of this at Goodguys. Since I brought up Goodguys, it has been decided that there will be two-hour shifts, so be thinking about that for the next meeting when we will start sign-ups for volunteers.

I hope everyone is able to be doing some sort of modeling. I would love to see the projects you guys are working on. Till next month,

Mike Lomaka Jr.

Last Meeting Minutes...

Well, I don't have official meeting minutes because I wasn't expecting to have to be doing this. Also, Mike Newport who took minutes has been under the weather and didn't send me his notes. Keep in mind that I am relying on a middle-aged memory to write this stuff so bear with me.

I believe Mr. President opened the actual BSAC portion of the meeting (and tried to speak over the unofficial BSAC members meetings) by talking about...not sure what!

I do remember that Tom Dillion discussed Goodguys and the need for a schedule this year, so as to allow everyone the opportunity to cruise the fairgrounds looking at the real stuff. There will be 2 hr shifts. Tom also mentioned that Dave's Deli has been closed for this year due to some unseemly complaints from show organizers, I believe.

Mike and Mark Harmon discussed the diorama; which is at Mark's house.

Mike also talked about the paint problems he was/is having on the model he is working on (we're supposed to paint these things??? Next thing someone's going to tell me to use glue on this mess of plastic parts!).

There was contest voting and I do believe that Carl Rees won for his REA delivery truck.

And that, quite honestly, is the extent of my memory of the meeting.

Editor's Notes...by Bob Mako

Greetings everyone! I suppose it was inevitable but I'm baaaccckkk!!! As newsletter editor, that is.

As those members who attended the meeting last month are aware, Mike Newport is unable to continue as newsletter editor/club secretary so we have switched duties. Mike has become the President-Elect for this year (and President for 2007!!) and I have assumed the duties of editor/secretary. At this moment, I am finding that my typing skills have actually diminished somewhat in the past few years but I think I may get the hang of this again in a couple of months.

All contributions to the newsletter can be emailed to me (preferably in Microsoft Word format; pics in jpeg format) at rmako@columbus.rr.com
